Pakistan Economy

Benefitting from tailwinds, but sustained pickup entails structural reforms

The worldwide slump in commodity prices, particularly energy, has provided a strong tailwind to Pakistan's economy. Headline inflation has hit low single digits; the current-account deficit is shrinking; rupee has been stable; fiscal deficit remains well-contained and GDP growth is picking up albeit from a low level due to lower input costs and higher household incomes. The economy seems to be on a sounder footing as the sharp decline in oil prices provides multiple benefits to a country that imports four-fifths of its oil and relies significantly on erstwhile expensive furnace oil to run its power plants along with outsized energy subsidies. Capital markets responded to the positive development on the economic front with interest rates touching multi-year low, and stock market reaching new heights.

However, Pakistan's economy has remained stuck in a boom-bust cycle for the last many decades. The high growth periods are often triggered by positive international developments and increase in foreign flows. Once this situation reverses, the economy experiences sharp downturn brought about by rising macroeconomic imbalances as manifested in rising and unsustainable fiscal and current account deficits. Consequentially, the country repeatedly has to enter into stabilization programs under IMF.

To achieve a sustained high growth path, the government must undertake the necessary reforms to address the following chronic structural issues besetting domestic economy.

Fiscal account weakness: The root cause of Pakistan's macroeconomic woes is fiscal mismanagement by successive governments. The main issues are 1) Low tax collection as most of the economy remains undocumented/under-taxed. Resultantly, our tax-to-GDP ratio at 10.1% is one of the lowest in the world, and tax revenues are not enough to meet government's current expenditures. The existing tax collection system mainly targets the industrial sector and salaried class while agriculture, services and real estate sectors remain lightly taxed despite making up nearly 80% of GDP. 2) Public sector inefficiencies as depicted by heavy losses incurred by state enterprises. Financial condition of these PSEs has continuously deteriorated due to overstaffing, corruption, politicized unions and mismanagement. Government spends about Rs.500 billion every year to bail out these organizations. 3) Large and untargeted subsidies. The resultant large fiscal deficits with excessive reliance on the domestic banking system crowds out the private sector and suppresses public savings and investments.

Savings / Investments as a % of GDP

Source: World Bank 2013, Pakistan Economic Survey

GDP composition is too lopsided: An aggregate demand-wise break-up of the economy reveals that GDP composition has become extremely lopsided over the last few years with an overwhelming share of consumption expenditures and very little contribution by investments and net exports. The share of consumption expenditures is far above, and investments significantly below than in comparable developing countries. Lack of public and private investment is reflected in poor infrastructure and narrow manufacturing base of the economy. Negative contribution of net exports is reflective of a weak current account position. To reverse this trend, Pakistan needs to pursue a more balanced growth (current GDP composition: Consumption 92.5%, Investments 14.0%, Net Exports -6.5%), with investments and exports rising at a faster pace than consumption expenditures.

Low savings: Another related issue is the abysmally low savings rate (12.8% of GDP) which is substantially below that in other developing countries. The government needs to substantially reduce its fiscal deficit to improve savings rate.

Competiveness and productivity: Weak external competitiveness, as manifested in a high structural trade deficit, due to low value addition and anemic productivity in the agriculture and industrial sectors remains another impediment facing local economy, threatening macroeconomic stability and impeding efforts to achieve sustained higher GDP growth. Chronic energy shortages forcing excessive reliance on expensive thermal power generation has further eroded the competitiveness of the local industry.

It is hoped that the government will seize the opportunity provided by the current favorable global macroeconomic environment to implement critical structural reforms needed to sustain the incipient economic recovery. Otherwise, the recent upturn may eventually fizzle out as a result of policy complacency.

April 2015

Stock Market Review

The stock market staged a robust recovery during April with the benchmark KMI 30 index rising by around 12%, more than making up for a sharp decline of around 8% witnessed during March. Overall, during CY15 through April, KMI 30 index has risen by around 9%. We attribute this strong performance of the stock market during April to attractive valuations, easy monetary conditions, and improving macroeconomic backdrop. Helped by steep fall in the global commodity prices, especially oil, the economic outlook continues to improve as depicted by falling inflation and interest rates, mitigation of risks to the external account as captured in the build-up in SBP FX reserves to US $ 12 billion from a low of US $ 3 billion hit in January 2014 and a pick-up in economic activity. During the ongoing corporate results season, majority of the companies posted above expected earnings and announced healthy payouts that validated the optimistic outlook on equities. Successful Secondary Public Offering of HBL shares with strong foreign participation provided strong impetus to the market. Another underpinning for the stock market rally is falling yields on the sovereign securities with 3, 5, and 10 years PIBs yielding 7.5%, 8% and 9% respectively, making the yield plays specially attractive. Foreigners were net buyers during the month with net inflows of US $ 34 Million versus net outflows of US $ 71 million recorded during the previous month.

Banking, Construction and Materials, and Electricity sectors performed better than the market, while Oil and Gas, General Industrials, and Forestry & Paper sectors lagged behind. Healthy corporate earnings announcements and payouts and sanguine valuations resulted in the strong performance of banking sector. After sell-off during March, investors accumulated cement stocks on expectations of healthy results announcements amid robust volumetric growth and strong margins. Power stocks remained attractive play for the yield hungry investors in the backdrop of the collapsing yields on the alternative fixed income avenues. Though sector performance remained slightly below the market, amid a decent recovery in the global oil prices and attractive valuations after heavy battering over the last one-year, a strong rally was witnessed in the key oil and gas stocks.

Easy monetary conditions driven primarily by falling inflation, relatively attractive market valuations, robust corporate earnings growth, falling yields on alternative fixed income avenues and stabilizing political and law & order situation make a strong case for double digit returns in CY2015. We also acknowledge that these returns may be accompanied by bouts of volatility spikes driven by external developments such as exit from an accommodative monetary in the US, evolving geo-political situation in the Middle-East and large movements in commodity prices. As per our estimates, currently the market is trading at around 8.8 times estimated earnings and is offering around 6% dividend yield.

We are closely monitoring the developments in the capital markets and will rebalance the portfolios of our equity related funds and SMAs accordingly.

Money Market Review

Inflation as measured by the CPI for April 2015 clocked in at 2.1% on a YoY basis as compared to 2.5% for March. During the month of April '15, expectations of further interest rate cut in the upcoming monetary policy announcement in May 15 amid falling inflation and improving external account position were manifested in falling T-bill and PIB yields. More precisely, the money market is expecting a rate cut of 100 bps as reflected in around 70 to 80 bps fall in the long term T-bills and PIB yields.

In the three T-Bills auctions during the month, MoF accepted Rs.498 billion (realized amount) against the target of Rs.600 billion and maturity of Rs.602 billion. The cut-off annualized yields for the last T-Bill auctions were noted at 7.38%, 7.3% and 7.22% for 3, 6 and 12 month tenors respectively. Last T-Bills auctions bid pattern skewed towards the 6 and 12 months as compared to 3 months. In PIB auction during the month, an amount of Rs.44 billion was accepted (realized amount), against the target of Rs.50 billion and total participation of Rs.152 billion (realized amount), at a cut-off yield of 7.85%, 8.42%, 9.30% in the 3 year, 5 year and 10 year tenors respectively whereas no bid was received in 20 year tenors. The bid pattern witnessed a major participation in 3 year tenor followed by 5 and 10 year tenors respectively.

We have adjusted the portfolio of our money market and income funds based on the capital market expectations. We are closely monitoring the developments in the capital markets and will rebalance the portfolio of our fixed income funds and SMAs accordingly.
